Minimal Residual Disease in Colorectal Cancer
Virtual webinar series

Learn from industry-leading GI oncology experts in this educational, three-part series on minimal residual disease (MRD) in colorectal cancer (CRC), followed by an open Q&A session. Attendees will learn how these experts use ctDNA and MRD assessment to guide treatment decisions and identify patients who are at risk for recurrence following curative intent therapy.

RSVP for the series through the link or QR code:
bit.ly/MRDinCRC

Featured speakers:

Scott Kopetz, M.D., Ph.D, FACP
10/31/22 4-5 pm ET
Oncologist; Deputy Chair, GI Medical Oncology; Del and Dennis McCarthy Distinguished Professor; NCI Colon Task Force Chair MD Anderson Cancer Center

Pashtoon Kasi, M.D., M.S.
11/01/22 12-1 pm ET
Oncologist and Researcher; Director of Colorectal Cancer Research; Precision Medicine Director for Liquid Biopsy Research; Assistant Attending Physician at Weill Cornell Medicine/New York-Presbyterian Hospital(NYP); Assistant Professor of Medicine at Weill Cornell Medical College, Cornell University.

Bassel El-Rayes, M.D.
11/2/22 11am -12 pm ET
Oncologist; Director of the Division of Hematology and Oncology and the Deputy Cancer Center Director at O’Neal Comprehensive Cancer Center of the University of Alabama at Birmingham.